Common Scenarios*Scenario #1: Multiple Grade Levels

Scenario: Ms. Smith teaches a self-contained classroom of 2nd and 3rd grade students

Reporting Result: The correct entry would show general elementary (0400) for the 2nd grade and general elementary (0400) for the 3rd grade with the number of periods and pupils for each grade level.

Scenario #2: Multiple Periods per Week

Scenario: Mr. Jones teaches Pre-Algebra two periods each day.

Reporting Results: The correct entry for periods would be 10. (Five days per week multiplied by two periods per day.)

Scenario #3: Total number of pupils for each subject taught

Scenario: Using scenario #2 information, Mr. Jones had 18 students during one period of Pre-Algebra and 16 during the other period.

Reporting Result: The correct entry would be 34 pupils. The purpose of this field is to collect how many students are taking a particular course from a particular teacher. This should be a student count. Do not multiply the total periods by the number of students enrolled in the course.

Scenario #4: Special Education Teacher Team Teaching

Scenario: The special education teacher works in the general education class alongside a high qualified teacher of core academic subjects or elementary academic content with 15 special education students in a general education class of 35 students.

Reporting Result: Report the subject, level and periods per week. Do not report the number of pupils, the primary teacher reports all 35 pupils that includes the 15 special education students.

Scenario #5: Special Education Teacher Co-Teaching

Scenario: The special education teacher works within the general education setting in which a general education HQT provides instruction on core academic subjects to 30 students.

Reporting Result: Report the subject, level and periods per week being taught by the special education teacher. Thirty (30) pupils will be reported by the general education HQ teacher doing content work. No pupils will be reported for the special education teacher that is co-teaching. Co-teaching is defined as the special education teacher who works within the general education setting in which a highly qualified general education teacher provides instruction to the class on core academic subjects. The special education teacher provides direct assistance to students with disabilities (e.g., via individualized or small group instruction) as a support to the highly qualified teacher's instruction. The special education teacher in this scenario does not need to be HQ.

Scenario #6: Special Education Resource Room Teacher

Certified Positions

Version 10.09.2008

Scenario: The special education teacher provides direct assistance to 15 students with disabilities in segregated settings after students receive instruction on core academic subjects from a general education HQT.

Reporting Result: Report the subject, level, periods per week and the number of pupils (15 in this scenario) being taught by the special education teacher. Fifteen (15) pupils will be reported for the special education teacher. Resource room teachers do not need to be HQ under the HQ definitions.
